WITNESSED THE MURDER

Wife and Daughter Saw
Head of the Family
Slain by Negro

Chicago, Sept. 19.—Clarence D. Hiller, chief clerk of the Chicago, Rock Island & Pacific railroad, was shot and killed today by a negro burglar, when he found ransacking the Hiller home.

The murder was witnessed by the victim's wife and two daughters, who were aroused when Hiller attacked the intruder at the foot of the stairs. The negro fled, still rolling on the foot of the stairs. The negro fled.

GRAND ARMY IN ENCAMPMENT

Atlantic City, N. J., Sept. 19.—The activities of the encampment of the Grand Army of the Republic began today when the national headquarters were formally opened on the Ocean pier at the foot of Tennessee avenue.

The weather was threatening. Things were early astir at the pier. Veterans held reunions, there were expressions of joy to see old comrades again and many moments of sorrow when some soldiers found that dear old friends had gone to their final rest.

The big crowd already here was swelled by the inflow of the thousands of veterans from all parts of the country.

The reunion of the Philadelphia brigade on the steppes pier at the foot of Pennsylvania avenue and the meeting of Col. Hilary A. Herbert, a member of President Cleveland's cabinet and a confederate officer, with Commander-in-Chief Van Zant, and General Sikes, still the talk among the hundreds of veterans who saw the meeting. It is probable that the proposition made by Herbert to bring about a great meeting of the Blue and the Gray will be considered during the day.

The national headquarters on the Ocean pier were opened with the first meeting of the executive committee of the national committee of administration. Commander-in-Chief Van Zant and his staff were early on hand to lend their aid in completing the preliminaries incident to the opening of the encampments and sessions on Thursday morning.

Several committees of women's relief corps also held their meetings. The work of arranging for the parade Wednesday, a great and difficult task, is proceeding splendidly, according to those in charge.

The old soldiers from the middle Atlantic and New England states are expected to make up their part of the big procession.

WOMAN CAUSES GREAT COMMOTION

New York, Sept. 12.—The names of more than 200 young women are registered by the Bronx police against George Greenly, charged with assault in connection with a fracas which broke up a dance at a New York shore resort early today.

Greenly, the young woman told the police, started a general riot shortly after midnight by using his fists against a rival. Before the police arrived, four men had been so seriously injured that they will be in the hospital for many days, while the incidental damage to the women's gowns is estimated at fully a thousand dollars.

When the police reached the scene all the uninjured male spectators had disappeared, leaving the two hundred or so to shoulder the responsibility of appearing as witnesses in court.

PAYS A GROWING
CITY TO OWN LAND

New York, Sept. 19.—Municipal land ownership has proved the most profitable undertaking New York City has ever engaged in when land is judicially acquired.

Such is the conclusion reached by Alderman Campbell, chairman of the committee on parks. In a report made public tonight he supports his conclusion with astonishing figures.

Nearly all land bought by the city before 1850 has increased marvellously in assessed valuation—admittedly below the market price—over the original cost. One case of nearly 9,500 per cent increase in the last sixty years, was found, several cases of from 2,000 to 5,000 per cent increase in the last 75 years, 95 cases of over 500 per cent and nearly 300 of 100 per cent. The city owns in all 943 sites, Campbell cites that Berlin owns one-tenth of the land within its own limits, Vienna about one-seventh, Munich one-fourth and Frankfurt-on-Main about one-half. One city he says, is so well off that there are no taxes, the rent from the city's lands paying all expenses.

LANDING OF BALLOONS

One of Them Was in the Air Nearly Seventeen Hours

Philadelphia, Sept. 19.—The balloon Pennsylvania II, which left Indianapolis Saturday in the endurance contest for the American championship, landed near Dexter, Ohio, yesterday.

The balloon was entered in the race by the Ohio club of Pennsylvania and a telegram received at the headquarters of the club today tells of the flight. The balloon was in the air 16 hours, 52 minutes, and traveled 210 miles. Heavy rain fell during Saturday night.

Indianapolis, Sept. 19.—Word was received here today that the balloon Indiana II, one of the starters in the American championship race from here last Saturday, landed at Pittsburgh, Pa., Sunday at 5 p. m. Colonel G. Fisher, president of the speedway, was pilot, and George L. Bumbaugh assistant.

The "Million Population Club" landed at Trafford City, Pa., Sunday afternoon.

ONE MAN KILLED AND ONE WOUNDED

Seattle, Wash., Sept. 19.—When Joseph Bocato and Ballard Besse refused to fight a duel after a quarrel with Joseph Rossa and Vincento Rossa, brothers, the two men were rushed out of the room and opened fire with revolvers through a window.

At the first shot Bocato fell dead. Shots that followed sent Besse down with what will probably prove fatal wounds.

Patrolman Christensen fired twice after the fugitives but failed to stop them. Later Vincento Rossa was captured. He denies all knowledge of the shooting, but is identified by bystanders as one of the slayers.

NEW YORK TOWN HAS HAD NO WATER

Tarrytown, N. Y., Sept. 19.—A two-months' water famine here has been relieved by the kindness of the New York city authorities. A New York water main with eighteen feet of water behind it has just been connected with the mains of the company which supplies this section. Industrial plants which have been closed for weeks will now reopen.

Potomac lake, from which the Tarrytown supply is ordinarily taken, is so low that there was great fear the mains would become polluted with dead fish. Fishermen have scooped careloads of fish from the muddy shallows in the last few days.

The drought has exhausted the private supply of John D. Rockefeller.

CROSSING THE ALPS

Two Aviators Make the Attempt but They Are Defeated

Brig, Switzerland, Sept. 19.—Though the weather was unpropitious for the bold undertaking, Mr. Weymann, the American, and Geo. Chavez, the Peruvian, attempted the trop-a-cross-the-Alps aeroplane flight today. Both failed but not until they had given pretty exhibition of high flying that promised better success in fair weather.

During the night a stiff breeze was blowing in the Simplon pass and the mountain peaks were hidden in a dense fog. There seemed little prospect that the competition would begin today. However, after daylight, the wind had gone down and though the weather was still cloudy, the intrepid Chavez and Weymann decided to risk a flight.

They got away with encouraging cries from an enormous crowd that was disappointed yesterday and had feared that bad weather was causing another disappointment.

Chavez left the starting grounds, a little quadrilateral plateau overlooking the Rhone valley, first, and immediately began to rise in sweeping spirals until he had reached an altitude above the towering mountain wall opposite. Then he disappeared over the granite shoulder that marks the entrance to the Saline gorge. A moment later the watchers at that point saw the monoplane wheel and gradually descended until it alighted on a little grassy slope at the foot of the sheer cliffs.

Chavez, who started a few moments after Chavez, remained in the air only eight minutes. He ascended to an altitude of about 1,700 feet, where he encountered a baffling wind. In landing at the bottom of the Rhone valley, he bent a wheel of his biplane. The height of 7,546 feet, attained by Chavez in his flight, was a record. He observed that the summit of the Simplon pass was obscured by a heavy cloud and decided to return rather than chance landing farther on the rocks. He announced that he might try again later in the day.

The other aviators who propose to try for the prize are Cattaneo and Palletto. The American uses a biplane and the others monoplanes.

The terms of the competition provide that the flight may be made any time between today and Sept. 26th. The start must be near this point at the head of the Rhone valley and the aviators must fly over the Simplon pass and down across Lake Maggiore to Milan, Italy.

Chavez reached an altitude of 7,546 feet when he was caught in a violent wind. He observed that the summit of the Simplon pass was obscured by a heavy cloud and decided to return rather than chance landing farther on the rocks. He announced that he might try again later in the day.

ENGINEER'S PASSING ON GOVERNMENT RECLAMATION

Grand Junction, Colo., Sept. 19.—Members of the board of arm engineers recently appointed by President Taft to pass on all government reclamation projects arrived here yesterday and will inspect the big reservoir canal project, which calls for an expenditure of approximately $3,000,000. Later the board will inspect the Uncompahgre project at Montrose, where about $1,000,000 is still needed to complete the work.

NEW BASEBALL LEAGUE IN SIGHT

Chicago, Sept. 19.—A special from New York to the Chicago Tribune says:

There probably will be a new baseball league in existence by next season, and it will not require $3,000,000 backing, nor entail a baseball war. It will be a league of ball players instead of promoters; another brotherhood along different lines. It will

EVIDENCE IS SENSATIONAL

Ethel Leneve Told of Her Jealousy of
Mrs. Crippen

London, Sept. 19.—Something of what Ethel Leneve suffered as she awaited the fulfillment of Dr. Hawley H. Crippen's promise to make her his wife was revealed at today's session of the inquest into the death of Belle Elmore, with the murder of whom the doctor and his typist are jointly charged.

In her distress, Miss Leneve confided in her landlady, Mrs. Jackson, and the story that the latter told on the witness stand rivaled the most sensational evidence introduced at the preliminary trial.

Mrs. Jackson said that the accused girl gave up the room which she had occupied at the home of the witness on March 12th, explaining that she was leaving to be married to Dr. Crippen.

Until the first week in February, Miss Leneve had slept regularly at Mrs. Jackson's home. After that she stopped at the house only occasionally.

She said she spent the other nights at the home of friends. On one occasion Miss Leneve mentioned having been at the Hilldrop Crescent home of the Crippens, early in February, to help the doctor in a search for a bank book, which showed an account of $1,000. She added that a diamond tiara and rings had been found in the house, and that the doctor had raised $850 on these.

About the middle of February, the witness said, Miss Leneve appeared miserable and depressed. Such was her state that Mrs. Jackson followed the girl to her room to learn the source of her trouble. Miss Leneve, the witness said, was in a terrifying state of agitation. Her eyes seemed to be starting out of her head. The landlady insisted on an explanation, telling the girl she must have something awful on her mind to be in such a condition. The witness said that the other replied:

"You don't know what I told you that it was the doctor and Miss Elmore? He was the cause of my trouble when you first knew me. She is his wife and when I see them go away, the girl makes me realize my position as to what she is and what I am."

Mrs. Jackson asked: "What is the use of your worrying about another woman's husband?"

To this Miss Leneve answered: "To miss Elmore has been threatening to go away with another man. Dr. Crippen has been waiting for her to do so, when he would divorce her."

Solicitor Newton, who is looking out for the interests of Crippen and Miss Leneve, closely cross-examined Mrs. Jackson, suggesting that her lodger's excitement was due to the fact that she had been threatened with a divorce.

Professor Pepper, the pathologist, retained by the coroner, but who he had given at the trial in the Bow street court. In response to the questions by the coroner, he said:

"I can form no definite opinion as to whether the parts found were those of a male or a female."

There was a suggestion that they were from the body of a female. I have a very strong opinion. If I take the hair discovered into consideration, there is a strong presumption, almost conclusive evidence, that the parts were those of a woman."

A juror was Scotland Yard man had allowed the doctor to get away once he had fallen under suspicion. Dew responded that he had a perfect answer to the attacks that had been made upon him and he would like to reply to the questions, but the coroner would not permit him to do so, declaring that the subject of Crippen's flight was "outside the scope of the present inquiry."

The inquest was then adjourned until Sept. 22.

THREE DROWNED ON PLEASURE TRIP

Vancouver, Sept. 19.—The launch "You and I," with a pleasure party of eight—four men and four girls—was caught in a tide rip just outside the narrows of Vancouver harbor last night and overturned. Three of the party were drowned. The dead: William Woodruff, Robert Young and his sister, Mary Young. None of the bodies has been found.

An Indian canoe rescued three of the girls and a launch picked up the two young men.

ROOSEVELT WITH TAFT

Conference Over New York Politics Held in New Haven

New Haven, Conn., Sept. 19.—President Taft and Colonel Roosevelt will hold a conference here this afternoon, presumably on the New York political situation.

The conference was arranged at the request of Mr. Roosevelt, who is now on his way here from Oyster Bay in a fast automobile.

Lloyd C. Griscom, president of the New York County Republican committee, and Otto T. Bannard, the Republican candidate for mayor of New York city last fall, also will take part in the conference.

The meeting was arranged on Saturday last when Secretary Norton was visiting his family. Mr. Griscom and Mr. Bannard telephoned Secretary Norton and asked if an arrangement could be made by which Col. Roosevelt might hold a conference with the President during his New Haven visit. This the President, it is said, was glad to do. He said he expected to lunch as usual with President Arthur T. Hadley after the Yale corporation meeting this morning. President Hadley was advised of this and accordingly invited the President, Col. Roosevelt, Mr. Griscom, Mr. Bannard and Secretary Norton to luncheon.

President Hadley's house, having been dismantled during the summer holiday, the luncheon was arranged at the home of Henry C. White, a neighbor and friend of President Hadley.

When asked this morning to state the subject of the conference, Secretary Norton said he knew nothing about it, except that an arrangement had been made for a meeting in response to request from Mr. Norton. The latter presumably was acting as the representative of Col. Roosevelt. Since the summer episode, President Taft has been disposed to keep entirely out of the New York situation. He had been reluctantly drawn into it in the first place and, after making his position clear during the entanglement which followed the turndown of Col. Roosevelt for the honorary chairman of the state convention, he felt he could leave the handling of the state's affairs to the leaders in the state, including Col. Roosevelt.

Word was received in New Haven this morning that Col. Roosevelt had left Oyster Bay by automobile, and that he would stop at Bridgeport on the way to New Haven to pick up Mr. Griscom. Mr. Bannard was to join the party here. The President is due to leave New Haven for Cincinnati at 3:15 p. m.

Col. Roosevelt and Mr. Griscom arrived at Mr. White's house this afternoon. The automobile covered the 18 miles from Bridgeport in thirty minutes.

This morning the United efforts of a policeman, a fireman and an ambulance surgeon were required early this morning to effect the rescue of Mrs. Emma Wick, a young widow, who, unable to sleep, had gone to the window of her second floor apartment for a breath of air, and by a vagrant of architecture, the country Mrs. Wick's apartment is separated from the yard of an adjoining apartment house by two fences which are only about 18 inches apart. Clad in her nightgown, she fell between the two fences and found herself wedged in the narrow chasm and unable to escape.

Her screams brought her neighbors flocking to their windows. When they had learned her plight and found that all their impromptu suggestions were unavailing to assist her, they telephoned for official help. One neighbor called the police department, and another asked for a fireman, and a third summoned an ambulance.

Policemen, firemen and ambulance surgeon arrived post haste. Together they managed to pry the country Mrs. Wick free from her predicament, and another asked for a fireman, and a third summoned an ambulance.

Senator Lodge has been in some what poor health for over a year and at the conclusion of an outdoor speech Saturday he had a brief fainting spell after retiring from the platform. SENATOR LODGE'S FAINTING SPELL

Boston, Sept. 19.—Following a slight collapse at the conclusion of a political speech at North Andover, Mass., on Saturday, U. S. Senator Henry Cabot Lodge may have to curtail his campaigning this fall.

Senator Lodge has been in some what poor health for over a year and at the conclusion of an outdoor speech Saturday he had a brief fainting spell after retiring from the platform. Washington, Sept. 19.—Too many Irish are leaving Ireland this year, in the opinion of the home government. A clipping from an Irish journal forwarded here by Deputy Consul J. S. Armstrong, Jr., of Cork, states: "The Irish emigration statistics prove unsatisfactory; 1,561 persons

SEARCHING FOR NEGRO

Men of a Mining Camp
May Lynch the Fellow

Walsenburg, Colo., Sept. 19.—Practically all work in the mines at Pictou and amidland, coal camps 16 miles west of here, is at a standstill, while the miners are scouring the country for Henry Wortham, a half-breed negro and Cherokee Indian, who is charged with an assault upon Annie Hawkins, 18-year-old daughter of a Matilda hotelkeeper last night.

The girl, who had been spending the evening with friends in Pictou, started to walk to her home in Matilda about 9 o'clock last night. According to her story, she was overtaken by her assailant, of whom she was able to give a good description, about half-way between the two towns, choked into insensibility and left unconscious by the roadside. An hour later she regained her senses and made her way back to Pictou.

A reward of $250 has been offered for Wortham's capture. It is not believed that he will be taken alive.

ADMIRAL EVANS WANTS BIG FLEET

Seattle, Wash., Sept. 19.—Rear Admiral Evans, retired, arrived in Seattle last night in the course of his tour.

Replying to the criticism of the expense of a large fleet of warships in the Pacific, Admiral Evans asserted that, as an insurance venture alone, it would pay the government.

"It has been figured," said he, "that the cost of a fleet of 100 battleships would not exceed the cost of 1 per cent of the property within reach of 12-inch guns on the Atlantic coast."

He pointed out that at the beginning of the Spanish American war property along the Atlantic seaboard depreciated in value, and houses exposed to the sea could not be rented at any price.

Even after the Panama canal is completed, the admiral contends, the United States should still keep a permanent fleet in the Pacific. He insisted that the hazard of ships passing through the canal during a war would be too great.

SPITE CHURCHES IN NEW YORK

New York, Sept. 19.—New York has a "spite church," even. It is said as the result of the business rivalry of two saloonkeepers in the Bronx. The church, a little wooden building, was opened for worship yesterday with a congregation of thirty persons.

For some time the liquor trade in the neighborhood has been divided between two saloonkeepers, whose business rivalry has been keen. There is a state law which forbids the keeping of a saloon within 200 feet of a church. One of the saloonkeepers, it is said, declared that there could be no more effective way of putting a rival out of business than building a church near enough to him to compel him to close up when his license ran out. The property upon which the new congregation will pray belongs to the saloonkeeper and was donated by him for the purpose. The other liquor man asserts that the structure was plainly erected to force him out of business and he is angry. He declares that he will retaliate by taking steps to build another church on property owned by a relative within 200 feet of his rival's door. The result may be that both men will be forced out of business.

The mission authorities who are in charge of the new house of worship declined to be drawn into the controversy.
